PESSARA BROKEN DOWN.

Kingston Wins the Opening Event--The Pepper's Victory.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACK, JUNE 20.—Turfmen were surprised and pained upon arriving at the track this afternoon to learn that Pessara had broken down hopelessly. This accounts for his poor performance in the suburban on Saturday. It is not believed that he will face the starter again this year. This is a great misfortune for Walcott & Campbell. A few days ago Diablo, owned by the same gentlemen, broke down, and the same day, Jockey Fred Tarr, who rode Pessara in the suburban, said to an EVENING WORLD reporter today:

"Yes, it's true that Pessara has broken down. While I was warming him up before the race he stumbled, and went to the post slightly lame. He did well for a mile. I was in good position and he was running easily when suddenly he stopped as though shot, but for that I am confident he would have won."

Walcott & Campbell stood to win $100,000 if Pessara won. It is said the colt was so bad that he could hardly get to the start. The racing today was continued with a very fair crowd. The Swift stakes was the feature of the card. The withdrawal of King Calmus, Lamplighter, Pickpocket, Yorkville Belle and others spoiled it considerably.

The attendance was large, but turfmen were more comfortable than on Saturday. The weather was clear, but a trifle sultry. The track was dry and fast.

Opening event, shorted Kingston a hot favorite, despite his poor performance on opening day. He won very comfortably from Major Dory, who was well backed because he had ten pounds off his race of Saturday.

The second race showed that the suspension of Jockey Fred Tarr, who rode Pessara, was a most fortunate happening for Mr. John Hunter, otherwise he would have won the Daisy Stakes, but for his error in the third race.

Heating at Sheephead Bay today.

THE TRE. Deafening Cheers Greet the Winner of the Rich Suburban.

GARRISON'S SUPERB RIDING. Racing by Electric Light—Mike Dwyer's Large Winnings.

The ninth Suburban furnished a contest the like of which the writer has only witnessed once before, and that was when Tenny and Salvador ran their celebrated match race over the Sheephead Bay course. The cheering was something deafening, and the grandstand lawn was a sight. There was a death-like silence when Major Domo swung into the stretch five lengths in front of Montana, who was two lengths in front of Lamplighter. The crowd wondered silently whether Montana and Lamplighter would ever catch the flying Major. They did catch him, and the race resulted in a furious finish, with Garrison, Lamplighter and Bergen riding desperately. The finish while the horses were rushing was deafening. No scene like it was ever witnessed by the writer since the memorable Tenny-Tenny match. Tenny's famous rush up the stretch evoked wild cheers. Montana won Saturday in much the same manner. His run in the final furlong was electrical.

Montana's victory was due to the superb jockeyship of Ed Garrison. Never before did a jockey ride such a desperate finish, and never was a horse handled more carefully than this son of Ban Fox. Garrison nursed him wonderfully, and even at the end of six furlongs, when Major Domo must have been at least fifteen lengths in front of Montana, Garrison sat like a statue, on the far turn he eased Montana a trifle and began to pass the stragglers. Still he did not really begin to ride until the head of the stretch was reached. He was risking all on Montana's speed in the final quarter. In the stretch he rode no other jockey can ride, and it was in superb, faultless style. He never got up until the last furlong and then he fairly lifted the colt in a winner by a head.

Bergen also rode a grand race. This clever jockey also rode to the post and made up his mind that Montana was the horse he had to beat. He stuck close to Garrison throughout. When the Souper moved, he moved also. In the stretch he went on with Lamplighter, but he timed his run a trifle too late, and his horse was fairly lifted by the electric light.

Lamplighter rode a good race, all things considered. He went right in front with Major Domo and Russell. This was the first time he had been in front since he was a two-year-old. He was a killing machine, and now he reached the stretch started to look behind him. He saw Garrison swooping down on him at a tremendous gallop, and he was fairly lifted by the electric light.

Major Domo and Russell were also in the race. Major Domo was a killing machine, and now he reached the stretch started to look behind him. He saw Garrison swooping down on him at a tremendous gallop, and he was fairly lifted by the electric light.

Russell was also in the race. He was a killing machine, and now he reached the stretch started to look behind him. He saw Garrison swooping down on him at a tremendous gallop, and he was fairly lifted by the electric light.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Chicago, June 20.—A meeting of the New York Cleveland delegates was held this afternoon to consider the advisability of taking vigorous measures to secure recognition by the National Convention.

Several of the leaders wanted to make a sharp fight for the seats, and insisted upon the exclusion of the snap delegates.

The majority of Mr. Cleveland's friends, however, thought that they should go slow, and it was finally decided that no contest should be made for the seats, although representation should be asked for.

There will be another meeting this evening, at which the subject will be further considered.

Mr. Whitney is said to be now in conference with Hill leaders at the Palmer House.
